VETS WILL VISIT LINCOLN

In Their Reunion for the Next Five Years.

LOCATION IS MADE UNANIMOUSLY

Encampment Attended by Over Five Hundred Uniform Rank Commanders in the Proceedings in Full.

OMAHA, Neb., Feb. 13.—(Special.)—Lincoln secured the Grand Army reunion by a unanimous vote and unless chewing the pillw was given to the capital city for a term of five years. This was the action of 525 odd soldiers in annual encampment assembled.

During the afternoon the advocates of Lincoln secured a vote by calling the location of the reunion the special order for 3 p. m. against the wishes of Hastings and Omaha delegates, who wanted an adjournment until the following day. When the time for the special order was reached the chairman was in the midst of a ballot for a senior office. Commander Adams stopped the proceedings and the special order was taken up and the locale of the reunion for the next five years was fixed. Resolutions requesting each kin delegate reunion for one, fixed $50 in appropriation and $50 for the five year thereafter were adopted. Some of these A. V. Cole of on the ground secured each t. he was about Hastings bid when in fact he, Sioux Sentinel.

A Harrison man succession for one year on. Fate of Lincoln moved as to fix the place regardless, and to vote by call of posts. It to prevent a possibility of bad drafting. Colonel Pace's motion. When the roll call by posts, question of location was yes. Commander Adams asked that delegates be given to present claims of the five cities. Lincoln, Omaha, Grand Island, but no motion of Judge Lake, of Hastings, and Colonel Pace, minutes time was given to each speaker.

FIVE TALKS FOR LINCOLN.

Colonel Pace made a strong, but heated appeal for Lincoln. He said the reunion should be located where it will be a million of soldiers of the state live, and within twelve hours' distance of the veterans residing in all states. Lincoln should go to Hastings they would have to travel a distance of per cent greater than if they came to Lincoln. He complimented the fine city of Lincoln, the fine city which Lincoln is, pure water, railroad facilities and ample street car transportation.

SANTOUR PLEA.

Judge Harvey then mounted the stage and declared Hastings had spoken the interest of the state, the last speaker. He said he spoke for 1,000 soldiers in the western part of the state, many of them on crutches, and if they had been present Lincoln's bid as diplomatic and with a story of the chickenings of a hen.

Colonel Pace replied and turned the tears in a way to bring out cheers, this answer was to the point to every particular, more to the delight of a large majority of delegates.

DRIFT TOWARDS LINCOLN.

A. V. Cole next spoke in favor of Hastings, but it was felt practically gone to the light.

Judge Harvey of Nebraska City spoke for Lincoln in reply to Mr. Cole. Omaha Comes, he said, was not ashamed of the place of your reunion in the west, and even in all fairness it ought to have to the city of veterans along the Missouri river, who were just as good and for cheap cause had been prevented from attending a reunion.

Sam Elder of Clay Center, the popular Democratic ex-member of congress, ex-speaker of the house of representatives, made a characteristic speech in favor of Lincoln, stating the boys had fought side by side twenty years before between them, and knew each other as well as brothers and knew what they ought to do, just as regard voting Hastings.

A. M. Cole of Grand Island Hastings and said the threat that a western reunion might follow if it were secured at Lincoln.

A delegate from Broken Bow brought the news from the Lincoln side by stating that he had said he would go to his home in Chicago as to some of the principally located towns. He favored Lincoln.

Captain Henry of Fairmont made a rousing speech for Lincoln.

VOTING BEGINS.

The vote on location was commenced at 10:15. It was Lincoln third from the start, when Fairmont and Omaha votes were added, Hastings votes were announced. Hastings counted, and Lincoln leaded Omaha and Hastings. Lincoln, Omaha, Hastings, Grand Island, Lincoln, Omaha, Hastings, Grand Island, Lincoln, Omaha, Hastings, Grand Island,
