

NORSE LULLABY.

Words by

M. L. VAN VORST.

By per. of author, and Pub. ST. NICHOLAS.

Lento.

più mosso
pp

a tempo

1. O - ver the crust — of the hard white snow, — The
2. Fath - er is near, — and he rides a - pace, — And
3. O - ver the crust — of the snow, hard by, — The

a tempo

lit - tle feet of the rein - deer go, — (Hush, hush, for the winds are fleet the steeds with the winds that race, — (Hush, hush, for a lit - tle lit - tle feet of the rein - deer fly, — (Hush, hush, for the winds are p colla parte low,) — And fine lit - tle bells are ring - - - ing; — And space,) — With snow to his man - tle cling - - - ing; — With high,) — And fine lit - tle bells are ring - - - ing; — And fine lit-tle bells are ring - - - ing; Noth-ing can reach thee of woe or snow to his man-tle cling - - - ing; Fly-ing his steed with the winds a - fine lit-tle bells are ring - - - ing; Noth-ing can reach us of woe or

pp
Red.

harm, Safe in the shel-ter of moth-er's arm, breast; Here in the twi-light, are warmth and rest, harm, Safe in the shel-ter of fath-er's arm,

pp
Red.

(Hush, hush, for the wind's a charm,) And moth-er's voice is sing - - (Hush, hush, in your lit-tle nest,) And moth-er's voice is sing - - (Hush, hush, for the wind's a charm,) And moth-er's voice is sing - -

p pp

ing, And moth-er's voice is sing - - - ing.
 ing, And moth-er's voice is sing - - - ing.
 ing, And moth-er's voice is sing - - - ing.