Andante

p

I love a las-sie as fair as can be, And she dwells where the blue-bells grow;— Far in old Scot-land she's wait-ing for me, Where the heath - er is all a - glow. — mf Some - times dream - ing — here a - lone, p Mem - 'ry makes her heart my own, mf And I hear her call - ing — p sweet and low For I know that she loves me

so. — mf rall. e dim. pp

p

Far o'er the moun-tains one day I shall roam, For its there that my heart would be; —

p

The first system of the musical score. The vocal line is in treble clef with a key signature of two flats (Bb, Eb) and a common time signature. It begins with a piano (p) dynamic. The lyrics are 'Far o'er the moun-tains one day I shall roam, For its there that my heart would be; —'. The piano accompaniment consists of two staves: the right hand in treble clef and the left hand in bass clef. The right hand features chords and moving lines, while the left hand has a steady bass line with some arpeggiated figures.

Blue-bell and heath-er are call-ing me home, To the las-sie who longs for me. —

The second system of the musical score. The vocal line continues with the lyrics 'Blue-bell and heath-er are call-ing me home, To the las-sie who longs for me. —'. The piano accompaniment continues with similar textures to the first system.

Day is dy-ing, night is near, On-ly one sweet voice I hear; And I

p

The third system of the musical score. The vocal line begins with a piano (p) dynamic and the lyrics 'Day is dy-ing, night is near, On-ly one sweet voice I hear; And I'. The piano accompaniment continues.

soon shall wan-der o'er the hill To the las-sie who loves me still! — rall. e dim.

The fourth system of the musical score. The vocal line concludes with the lyrics 'soon shall wan-der o'er the hill To the las-sie who loves me still! —'. The piano accompaniment ends with a rall. e dim. (rallentando e diminuendo) marking. A circular library stamp from 'LINCOLN CITY LIBRARY' is visible in the bottom right corner of the system.
