Now when you're feel-ing lone-ly, Of her your thots are on-ly, And
Of her you're think-ing on-ly, It's her that you want on-ly, It's

you have al-ways loved her true. It's her that you have loved so true. You years since you have met her,— It's years since you have left her,— prom-ised when you met her,— You prom-ised when you left her,—

Now you won-der if she thinks of you.— It's been quite a good while since to That you'd keep your love for her so true.— It's been quite a good while since to her you wrote, Nev-er has she an-swer'd your sweet lov-ing note. There's no use in sigh-ing, her you wrote, Nev-er has she an-swer'd your sweet lov-ing note. What's the use of sigh-ing,

There's no use in cry-ing, For your dreams of her may still come true.—
 What's the use of cry-ing, For your dreams of her may still come true.—

CHORUS

The musical score is written for voice and piano. It consists of four systems of music. The first system begins with a double bar line and a repeat sign. The lyrics are: "There's no use to sigh or cry, So just cheer up as the time goes by____". The second system continues the melody and accompaniment. The lyrics are: "What's the use to wor-ry, your youthful life that's why_ When you dream sweet dreams of love and you". The third system continues. The lyrics are: "know they're as true as the stars a - bove No use in sigh - ing, there is". The fourth system concludes the chorus with two endings. The first ending leads back to the beginning of the chorus, and the second ending concludes the piece. The lyrics for the first ending are: "no use in cry - ing, So just cheer up as the time goes by.____". The lyrics for the second ending are: "by.____". The piano accompaniment features a steady eighth-note bass line and a more active treble line with chords and moving lines. The piece ends with a molto rit. (molto ritardando) marking.
